

School offer

The addition of a writing board and individual benches to the table-bench will allow you to set up outdoor classrooms with greater versatility.

The writing board features a highly resistant surface able to withstand any scratches and vandalism. The individual bench is perfect to work alone or in teams depending on its arrangement, and completes the whole beautifully.

Teachers will want to go outside more often, much to the delight of the students. The variety of furniture is suited to all types of teaching, whether for lectures or more active learning!
